GOVERNMENT TASK FORCE ON NURSING EDUCATION

A task force on nursing education in Alberta released its 190 page report for the public last Friday, February 27. Commissioned by the Department of Advanced Education and Manpower, the task force was established in January, 1975, under the authority of James L. Foster. Formation of the task force followed a policy announcement in October, 1974, which transferred the preparation of health manpower from the jurisdiction of the Department of Health and Social Development to that of Advanced Education. The transfer was originally intended to improve the coordination between training and employment opportunities.

Walter H. Johns, professor emeritus, served as Chairman of the thirteen-member task force which included representatives from the institutions and associations concerned. Their purpose was to examine nursing education in a broad context while seeking to identify the competencies and skills required by nursing graduates and relate these to program considerations for all levels of nursing preparation. Other areas which received study were those relating to manpower supply and demand, standards, and the preparation of nurse educators.

The task force recommended that nursing education programs place a greater emphasis on prevention of illness through consumer involvement and improvement of health services. Other recommendations of the task force included: the gradual elevation of professional nursing to a baccalaureate level by 1990; the immediate amalgamation of present training programs for certified nursing aides and registered nursing orderlies to prepare para-professional nursing assistants; the increased utilization of clinical resources shared among the various nursing education programs and health-care agencies; the provision of programs and support to potential graduate students at the master's and doctoral levels to meet the demand for nursing instructors; and the establishment of a provincial council on nursing education, coordinating the activities of a nurses education board and a nursing assistants education board, to promote liaison throughout the nursing education system.

In its report, the task force recognized that special provisions would be necessary for those who qualified as registered nurses prior to the establishment of new standards and for nurses coming into Alberta. Dr. Johns suggested that as long as those nurses who were registered under existing standards continued to renew their registrations, as they must do regularly, their present status would not change. He also pointed out that the conclusions of the task force came forward as recommendations only and might not necessarily be implemented by the government.

GENERAL FACULTIES COUNCIL

At its regular meeting on Monday, February 23, General Faculties Council considered the following:

Sexual Assaults Prevention Committee

Council approved the Nominating Committee's recommended membership of the ad hoc Committee to Deal with the Prevention of Sexual Assault on Campus (the creation of which had been approved at Council's last meeting). Membership will consist of one member of Student Counselling Service, one member of the Campus Development Committee, one member of the Academic Women's Association, one woman who is a member of the Non-Academic Staff Association, one member of the University Health Services, one member of HELP, one graduate student, and one undergraduate student, both women.

Name changes

Council approved requests from the Faculty of Physical Education that the name of the Faculty be changed to "Faculty of Physical Education and Recreation," and that the Department of Education Services be renamed the "Department of Movement Education."

Proposed reorganization of Student Affairs

Upon the recommendation of the GFC Executive Committee, Council approved the establishment of an ad hoc Committee to study the Board's proposed reorganization of the Student Affairs offices. The committee will be composed of two undergraduates, one graduate student, and three members of the academic staff.

The committee's terms of reference will be (a) to consider reports from the Board of Governors, the President, and any other persons or groups regarding the merits of consolidating student services; (b) to consider how such consolidation could best be effected; and (c) to have its recommendations available for the GFC Executive meeting of May 10, 1976.

Council had received a Report from the Board of Governors on January 26 outlining the Board's proposals for restructuring the Office of Student Affairs. GFC members had pointed out that under the Universities Act, student affairs came within the purview of General Faculties Council, which had not in fact been consulted. In discussing the course of action the ad hoc committee would take, Vice-President (Academic) Myer Horowitz said that those Board proposals which Council would endorse would presumably go ahead, while any deviations from the Board proposals would be presented to the Board as GFC recommendations. (The Board's proposals regarding reorganization of student affairs appeared in Folio, February 5, page 4.)

POST DOCTORAL FELLOWS IN SCIENCE

The Senate Executive Committee met on February 11 with a number of representatives from the University of Alberta Chemistry Post Doctoral Association. During the last meeting of the Senate, Ron Dalby, Chancellor of the University and Chairman of the Senate, gave a brief outline of the serious problems being faced by these post doctoral fellows here and across Canada.

Post doctoral fellowships (PDFs) are normally temporary university research positions intended to give the new PhD recipient additional experience and improve his or her chances of a permanent academic or industrial research appointment. Remuneration, which is paid largely through research grants, has been low in the past compared to full-time academic salaries. This had traditionally been accepted as adequate given that the positions were temporary and, at least in part, learning situations for the PDFs.

With the rapid expansion of the late sixties, many science departments expanded both the number of graduate students and the number of PDFs. (There are, for example, about sixty-seven PDFs and Research Assistants in the Department of Chemistry.) Since then, enrolments have generally dropped, operating grants have levelled out, and permanent academic and industrial positions have not materialized as expected. In addition, the dollar value of government research grants has dropped substantially. The consequence of all this is a large number of highly qualified people who have no permanent positions to go to; who are often in their thirties, with families to support; who are staying in their PDF positions longer than one to two years; whose stipends have remained constant or dropped; and who have little or no job protection as employees, nor access to normal UIC or WCB benefits.

Senate members voted to strike a committee to give immediate consideration to this situation and report back to Senate at its next meeting.

NOTICES

EDMONTON RECORDER SOCIETY

The Edmonton Recorder Society will meet on Friday, March 12, at 8 p.m. in the Southwest Cultural Centre, 115 Street and 74 Avenue. There will be a talk and demonstration on group playing by The Plumber's Union. For more information, phone Louise Dawson at 434-0091.

NON CREDIT COURSES

A DAY WITH SAUL GELLERMAN

Saul Gellerman, well-known consultant to industry and government on problems of motivation, productivity, and human resources development, will be in Edmonton April 30 to conduct a seminar for the Faculty of Extension. The seminar will provide managerial and supervisory personnel with an opportunity to see Dr. Gellerman's films—Planning, Organizing and Controlling; Assessing Management Potential; Management by Participation; and Pay for Performance—and to discuss them with him.

Brochures outlining the contents of each film are available by calling 432-5067. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $75 including luncheon and materials. The registration deadline is March 29. After this date, no cancellations can be accepted but substitutions can be made until the date of the seminar.

THE USE OF MEETINGS TO BRING ABOUT CHANGE

Charles Hosford of Charles Hosford and Associates, Organization Development Consultants, Portland, Oregon, will conduct this workshop from March 29 to March 31. The workshop, sponsored by Faculty of Extension, will focus on the use of meetings in bringing about planned change. Among the skills and techniques presented will be data collection activities, third party facilitation, conducting meetings, and managing interpersonal and organizational conflict. The workshop will provide the opportunity for participants to become familiar with the appropriate use of these team building activities and skills through the use of theory, practice case studies, and simulation.

The workshop hours will be from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day. The class limit is 40 participants and the registration fee is $70. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. Additional information is available by calling 432-5069.

COOKING WITH MICROWAVES

This is a one-day, short course on microwave ovens sponsored by International Microwave Power Institute and Alberta Power Limited. To be held Saturday, March 27, in the Tory Lecture Theatre, the course will deal with the basic principles, safety aspects, use of utensils, nutrition, and consumer microwave oven features. Microwave cooking will also be demonstrated by an expert.

Registration forms can be obtained by contacting the course manager, Sylvia Scott, Alberta Power Limited, 10040 104 Street, Edmonton. Telephone 424-6161, extension 771 for further information. A fee of $25 covers the entire program including refreshments and lunch and a copy of the text. Registrations made later than March 13 will be assessed an additional $5. Registrations may not be cancelled after March 13, but substitutions may be made before the course begins.
